One to Watch: Up and coming musician Kathryn Dean

- Kathryn Dean is a very talented musician
- She is an up and coming star with a promising future
- Kathryn Dean is our One to Watch for today

There are a lot of young and talented stars in the entertainment industry these days and, while some of these young stars do get talked about on a daily basis, there are others who do not quite get the recognition that their talent deserves. Our One to Watch section is a great way for us to bring you some of the young and talented stars who you really deserve to know about.

KATHRYN DEAN IS A VERY TALENTED MUSICIAN

Singer Kathryn Dean is a young, up and coming musician with bags of talent and the potential to go all the way in the music industry. She has an absolutely incredible voice that is sensational live and, at the age of 18 she writes song lyrics that are very impressive and can be related to by people of all ages.

Along with her raw talent, fantastic singing voice, and beautiful song writing, Kathryn Dean is also a very beautiful young woman with a fantastic personality to match her talent. Kathryn released her debut EP in September last year and is now preparing for the release of her full length debut album, which is set to drop in April and will feature her hit single I'll Show You Crazy.

We have become big fans of Kathryn Dean and we have no doubt that you too will be once you listen to her music. We love the track I'll Show You Crazy and cannot wait to get our hands on her full length album as soon as it drops. We tip Kathryn to become a huge music superstar and look forward to watching her grow and mature on the music scene.

Check out the Kathryn Dean music video for I'll Show You Crazy and let us know what you think.
